Today, we've got big news to announce!
To kick off winter 2025, we're releasing our dark and epic metal ballad "Whiteout". Listen and let the winter seep into your soul.

The song "Whiteout", composed by Andreas Maierhofer and Herbert Sopracolle, spent several years tucked away in a drawer before Marina Su brought it to life with her lyrics and vocal melody. The text was inspired by the extraordinary experiences of Marina's father, who has tackled the 1,000-mile Iditarod Trail in Alaska on foot multiple times, enduring some of the harshest conditions imaginable.

About the band:

The Austrian Band My Dark Fate delivers a powerful take on modern groove metal, blending crushing seven-string riffs from Andreas Maierhofer with a dual vocal approach. Aggressive growls from guitarist Stefan Geir are balanced by melodic clean hooks from bassist Marina Su. The tight, driving rhythms delivered by Christian Federer keep the sound heavy.

The band released their debut album, No Prophecy, in December 2022 (with former vocalist Brigitte).

In 2025, the band underwent a reboot, with Marina (vocals, bass) and Stefan (vocals, guitar) officially joining the lineup.

The project was originally founded 2020 by guitarist and main songwriter Andreas Maierhofer, best known for his work with the melodic death metal band Lost Dreams.

With My Dark Fate, he continues to channel his decades of experience into a darker, heavier vision.

Now, 2025 marks the beginning of a bold new chapter for My Dark Fate.
